Youth In Policing Initiative (YIPI)

On February 14, 2006, Minister Mary Anne Chambers, of the Ministry of Children and Youth Services, announced that the Ontario Government would be funding various youth opportunity initiatives, as part of the government's new strategy to address the growing needs of our youth. Part of that strategy, was and is a partnership with the Toronto Police Services Board, the Toronto Police Service, and the Ministry of Children and Youth Services to hire 150 youth for the summer.

The Youth in Policing Initiative is a partnership between these three agencies to create a meaningful work experience for youth. This summer employment initiative focuses on youth between the ages of 14 -17 years old, residing in priority neighbourhoods within the City of Toronto.

The aim of the Youth in Policing Initiative is to promote youth participation in and exposure to the work environment through diverse, educational, and productive work assignments.

This program also enhances the link between the police and the neighbourhoods we serve. This initiative gives young people an opportunity to develop job skills while fostering positive community partnerships.

The mandate of the Youth in Policing Initiative is:

- To promote youth participation in and exposure to the work environment through diverse, educational and productive work assignments.
- To enhance the link between the police and the neighbourhoods we serve by selecting youth reflecting our culturally diverse city.
- To provide a safe and positive employment opportunity over the summer months for youth.
- To promote the Toronto Police Service as an employer of choice.

The goal of the Youth in Policing Initiative is to give young people an opportunity to develop job skills while enhancing police and community relations.

The selection of the youths is based on the following criteria:

- Be legally eligible to work in Canada

The skills YOU need to enter, stay in, and progress in the world of work—whether you work on your own or as part of a team

The Conference Board invites and encourages students, teachers, parents, employers, labour, community leaders and governments to use Employability Skills 2000+ as a framework for dialogue and action. Understanding and applying these skills will help you enter, stay in, and progress in the world of work.
